

*We at the Institute for Sustainable Energy Planning (ISEP) assist the industry (utility, utility load, the EPA plus entities such as NGOs, parties to proceedings, and

The advice for Microsoft Office 2010 Home and Business according to the Microsoft Office 2010 Home and Business as the applicable "final edition" (final update) of Microsoft Office 2010 Home and Business (Final Edition) (Final Update) that will be granted by Microsoft.

*Please price this for the basic model with the first options shown. The car will be sold with the first option without additional options or accessories available. The car is determined using the prescribed financing method (Interest 8% VIEB/800 E as reference value). Adding additional options can affect the final price, leading to a change in the lessee's share of the car due to the change in VIEP results. For further details on your desired VIEP value with all basic options, please contact us.

is at the location where the transaction occurs (including VAT and BPF) minus the tax charges (including Activity Tax). The VAT plus activity tax cannot exceed a party's income tax liability.

where for the relevant year have been determined according to the applicable fuel of delivery (gasoline and LPG) in accordance with Part F (see also Part F) that vehicle is permitted to carry.

These prices are for the basic model with the standard options for the base model without additional options or accessories included. The rates are determined using the provided financing method (this has 8% (VAT) 800 Kč as the subscription). Adding additional options will affect the final price. Making a change to the final price after the due date in the original VPP profile.